

Index of Contents

I. THE SEA AND ITS RELATED LAW AREAS

- I. Positivism Areas
- II. The meaning of law areas related to the sea

II. CONSTITUTIONAL GROUNDS

- I. The approach
- II. Congress' legislative faculty regarding peace and war maritime law
- III. Federal's tribunals exclusive competence with respect of controversies related to maritime law

III. INDIGENOUS AND COLONY BACKGROUNDS

- I. The approach
- II. Mexica's background
- III. Colony

IV. BILBAO'S ORDINANCE

- I. General remarks and chronology
- II. Content
- III. Notes and conclusions

V. MERCHANDISE CODES

- I. 1854 Code of Commerce
- II. 1884 Code of Commerce
- III. 1889 Code of Commerce

VI. GENERAL COMMUNICATION ROUTE LAW

- I. Context and reasoning
- II. General remarks and debates within the ordinance's historical stages (1930 – 1940)
- III. Third book content concerning the sea communication

VII. NAVIGATION AND COMMERCE SEA LAW

- I. Introductory remark
- II. The debates
- III. The ordinance's content

VIII. MERCHANT NAVY DEVELOPMENT LAW

- I. Historical and juridical context
- II. The law's proposal
- III. The Law's content

IX. NAVIGATION LAW

- I. Content
- II. The national development plan 1989-1994
- III. The law's proposal

- IV. The proposal's amendment
- V. The debates within the Deputy's camera
- VI. Content and structure
- VII. General remarks

X. *SUPPLEMENTARY LAW

- I. A brief analysis regarding the supplementary areas of the subject
- II. Applicable sources' scheme

XI. *REGLAMENTARY LAW

- I. Generalities
- II. Reglamentary sources' scheme

XII. *THE INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING LAW AND THE MEXICAN LEGAL SYSTEM

- I. Shipping law internationality and navigation law
- II. International permeability and uniformity

XIII. *COMMENTS LEAD TO A CHARACTERIZATION OF THE MARITIME AND NAVIGATION MEXICAN LAW

- I. The approach
- II. Evolutionary
- III. World-wide
- IV. Integrator
- V. Particularistic
- VI. Autonomous
- VII. Permeable and uniform
- VIII. Partisan

XIV. *TOWARDS THE YEAR 2000

- I. The economic-politic context
- II. National Development plan 1995-2000
- III. Development program regarding the transport and communication field 1995-2000
- IV. Concluding remarks